

National High School Baseball Coaches Association/Baseball America
Top 25 Rankings
May 10th, 2011

Postseasons are underway for several southern states and the lack of major upsets has led to minimal shifting in the latest Baseball America/National High School Baseball Coaches Association Top 25. Owasso (OK) High begins the state tournament on May 11 still atop the rankings. The only changes in among the top 10 teams saw JSerra High (San Juan Capistrano, CA) dropping one spot to No. 7 after a tough loss to a very competitive Mater Dei High of Santa Ana, Calif. and Atlanta's Marist School moving up four spots to No. 10 after advancing to the second round of the Georgia 4-A state playoffs.

Ardrey Kell High of Charlotte dropped out of the rankings from No. 19 after conference rival Providence High—also in Charlotte—beat the Knights for the second time this season. The Panthers entered the Top 25 for the first time this season at No. 24. Also joining the rankings for the first time in 2011 is Lorton, VA's South County High, sporting an undefeated record while playing in one of the toughest districts in Northern Virginia.
